

BISON SOCIETY GETS BUFFALOES

John E. Dooly Presents Fine Pair of Animals for New Range.

ANTELOPE ISLAND HERD

E. H. BAYNES FINDS ANIMALS THERE ARE RATHER WILD.

John E. Dooly, owner of the famous Dooly herd of buffalo, has presented two fine young buffaloes to the American Bison society. The young buffaloes will be placed on the society's new national range on the Flathead Indian reservation in northwestern Montana.

The gift is the result of a visit to Antelope island by Ernest Harold Baynes of Meridian, N. H., secretary of the American Bison society, who is in the west for the purpose of visiting the large buffalo herds.

Photographs Dooly Herd. Mr. Baynes has spent the last two days at Antelope island inspecting and photographing the herd, which he says is in the best of health and condition. He has seen at the Knutsford Mr. Baynes said: "I never saw more active buffaloes anywhere than those on Antelope island. The conditions under which they live tend to make them very strong and fleet and they race over the mountain slopes like jack-rabbits. They are unusually difficult to photograph on account of their wildness, but I think I secured some good pictures of them."

The buffaloes are peaceable enough when unmolested, but willing and able to protect their rights when necessary. Several times, when trying to photograph a solitary old bull, I had reason to be glad that I was well mounted, and a splendid cow which charged upon me out of the herd when I was pressing it close caused me to lose my hat and smash my camera in an effort to avoid her horns.

Visits Other Herds. Other herds which have been visited by Mr. Baynes are the Conrad herd at Kalspell, Mont.; the Pablo herd on the Flathead reservation; the Yellowstone herd in the Yellowstone park and the smaller bunches in the zoological gardens at Chicago, Davenport, Ia., and Butte.

"In visiting the Conrad herd," said Mr. Baynes, "I was much impressed with the unusual docility of the animals and learned that it was the result of careful, kindly handling. Around the larger part of their summer range of 600 acres there is only an ordinary rail cattle fence, yet they seldom try to get out. Their winter range is sixteen miles away, and they are easily driven back and forth in the spring and fall. The drive to the winter range took place this fall while I was in Kalspell, and I was one of several horsemen who rounded up the herd and drove them through the streets of the town to the 1,600-acre ranch, where they will remain until spring. The finest pair of buffaloes in this herd have been presented to the American Bison society by the C. E. Conrad estate, and, with the Dooly pair, will shortly be placed on the society's Montana range, as the nucleus of a herd to be maintained under government auspices."

Mr. Baynes left yesterday for Texas, where he will inspect the well known Goodnight herd.

WIVES DEMAND DIVORCE.

Non-Support and Drunkenness Charged Against Husbands.

Alma Gillespie yesterday brought an action for divorce against her husband, Alex. Gillespie, on the ground of non-support. They were married in Park City on May 23, 1907. The wife is the mother of two daughters by a former marriage, Marie Cotter, 8 years of age, and Louise Cotter, 6 years of age. The wife says the husband is capable of earning $4 or $5 a day, but he contributes nothing to the support of the family.

An action for divorce was filed yesterday in the district court by Isabel Smith against James Smith. The ground is non-support. They were married in Sunderland, England, Sept. 12, 1891, and are the parents of one daughter, now married. The wife says her husband is a drunkard and by reason of that fact cannot hold a job when he gets one.

Alma C. Clayton, who is an officer of the court, brought young Dole to the joint building, having found him with his hands inked and ink upon his clothing. There is a possibility that the young fellow may be charged with felony.

MRS. CHAMBERS' PIGS AVEAGED

Sheriff Emery Must Settle for Abducting Five Little Porks.

The time has come, the Walrus said, To speak of many things, Of shoes and ships and sealing wax, Of cabbages and kings. Why the sea is boiling hot, And whether pigs have wings.

We, the jurors empaneled in the above-entitled case, find the issues in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, and find the market value of the pigs taken to have been, Dec. 5, 1907, as follows:

1 black male pig.....$17.50
1 white male pig.....15.50
1 white male pig.....15.50
1 white sow.....23.50
1 white sow.....20.45

We find and assess the plaintiff's damages, including interest to date, to be the sum of $104.52.

HENRY T. McEWAN, Foreman.

Whether or not pigs have wings has been variously interpreted from the famous nursery rhyme. It mostly depends on the governor; but Mrs. Mary Etta Chambers is thoroughly convinced that her pigs once had wings, and C. Frank Emery, sheriff, is now thoroughly convinced also, that his pigs have wings; and Mrs. Chambers knows that she is going to get her pigs back or make the sheriff know why the sea is boiling hot, and the sheriff is thoroughly convinced that of the three—shoes, ships and sealing wax—he would better choose the latter.

Once upon a time there lived in Murray a man and his wife. The name of the man was T. H. Chambers. On a day, long ago—Sept. 1, 1905—there was granted in the court at Murray, J. C. McOmie, J. P., a judgment against chambers for $104.52 and $4.00 costs. This judgment was in favor of the Parker Lumber company.

On Dec. 5, 1907, Sheriff Emery is alleged to have attached wings to the pigs and made them fly away with him, his alleged warrant being the judgment and costs against him.

It was set up by the sheriff that when his officers leveled on the pigs, Mrs. Chambers claimed that she had no interest in them but it has since been proved that she did have and proved that interest, to boot.

It is said that the jury sent in for "Pigs in the Clover" to assist in the deliberations and bring about a final solution, but there is no confirmation of this report by the jury.

CHEWING GUM IS LOADED

Each Package Accompanied by Leaden Image Demoralizing to Juveniles.

The juvenile court has on its hands a case which presents not a few intricate points. It is charged that one of the candy companies doing business in this city is giving away with each package of gum put out by it a leaden image so severely and likewise its operation. It is understood that the candy company has increased the sale of its gum many, many fold among the youngsters, and that it is rather defiant in its position as to whether it will or will not consent to the destruction of the images in connection with its sales. The stand of the candy company being that there is no law against the sale of such articles, but that the law covers only their manufacture. Inasmuch as they are manufactured in the east and purchased by the candy company here, a nice legal question may be involved.

The matter will be more fully investigated today.

CUT-OFF NEARLY FINISHED. Will Eliminate Difficult Grade Between Denver and Cheyenne.

Announcement has been made by the Union Pacific officials that the new Borie cut-off between Denver and Cheyenne, upon which $1,000,000 has been spent in the construction, will be completed shortly after Nov. 1. The cut-off will save a distance of twelve miles between those points. In addition to the distance and time saved, the cut-off eliminates the Atchafalpa grade, one of the steepest and hardest to operate over the entire Union Pacific system. The cut-off starts three miles north of Carr, Colo., and runs to Borie, twelve miles west of Cheyenne.

CAR PATRONS KICK FOR HEAT AND GET HOT AIR RELIEF

Passengers Say Service Answers All Requirements of Refrigerator Cars and Cold Storage—Heat Is on and Off, Says Superintendent Hunt.

Are they or are they not? The people say that they are not, and the street car officials say that they are. So there you are. Take your choice.

The most momentous question that now disturbs the serenity of Salt Lake is that which has arisen over the question of heating the street cars. Complaints are heard everywhere from the people that their comfort and health are endangered by cold cars, and the officials of the Utah Light & Railway company maintain that the patrons do not know what heat is.

Cold street cars, according to the street car patrons, have constituted the bone of contention for plenty of arguments between the people and the car conductors. The patrons say that they have kicked and kicked about the frigidity of the cars, and the conductors say that the cars are not heated.

Superintendent R. E. Hunt of the Utah Light & Railway company has stated to a Herald reporter that the heat is on in cars, that is, it is on and off. He says that the conductor is the judge of the necessity of heat that when he thinks the passengers are suffering from cold he turns the heat on, and vice versa.

Mr. Hunt Explains.

Superintendent Hunt has this to say in regard to the heat question: "It is not true that the street cars are not heated. They are heated. The heat has been on and off in the cars during the past few days. It has been turned on when necessary, and off when it was not necessary."

"It is impossible to suit everybody in the matter of heating street cars. Some people would kick, anyway. They do not seem to realize that street car doors are constantly opening to let in people and the cold air rushes in with every opening. You can't keep the cold air out if the doors are going to open often, though some people don't seem to realize it."

"The reason that the cars were not heated last week was that there were no fuses in the heaters. They have been put in all the cars now, and the heat has been on whenever necessary lately. The cars are all equipped with heaters for the winter, and we are doing our best to please the people in the matter of heating cars."

Protest by Patrons.

Judge O. W. Powers took a crack at the street car officials and their cars in his speech at the Monnett rally in the Salt Lake theatre last Monday evening. His remark evidently struck a responsive chord, for it made a hit with the audience. He said:

"I am glad to see such a magnificent audience this cold, unpleasant evening. It is gratifying to know that the appeal of Democracy is potent to draw such a crowd, even though you have to ride in street cars which the Harrison system, owing to the financial stringency, is unable to warm."

Patrons' Communication.

Below is published a letter of complaint.

"To The Salt Lake Herald:

"I suppose you have a slight idea of the coldness of the weather, but the street car officials have not. I guess they have a nice warm fire to work by. Have you ever been in a refrigerator car? If not, just step out of a street car in this city, and you will then be enabled to form an idea of what one would be like."

"The company is very accommodating to its many patrons. They give you a ride through Iceland with plenty of fresh, cold air on top, and all for a nickel. I asked two or three conductors why they didn't turn on the hot air, and they all said that the company issued a restraint for five cents. They also said other things about the company."

"The way that people sit all huddled up to each other, each wrapped in his or her coat, the case may be, reminds me of poor little arches in Boston in the winter time. It is really a shame to ask the company for warmth to comfort its many patrons, for they would have to use more electricity. They are getting out of the economical in the artificial heat line since the panic. Yours truly, A PATRON."

ENTIRE CITY TO ENTERTAIN G. A. R.

Mayor Bransford Named as Chairman of Executive Committee to Arrange.

Mayor John S. Bransford, who was appointed to the chairmanship of the executive committee to have complete charge of all preparations for the big G. A. R. convention of next year, accepted the office at a meeting of the board of governors of the Commercial club. He will appoint a committee of fifteen representative men to comprise the executive committee under his chair.

As the impression has spread abroad that the Commercial club members will select only its members to make arrangements for the G. A. R. convention and entertain the veterans, the board of governors wishes to announce that such an understanding is erroneous. The Commercial club will not monopolize the membership on any G. A. R. committee, no matter how large or small its functions.

Mayor Bransford will select the membership of the executive committee from every business and industry in Salt Lake and vicinity. All of the fifty sub-committees which will be constituted to make arrangements will be similarly made up.

Though the Commercial club has assumed the responsibility for the management and the success of the encampment, the veterans, the board of governors wishes to announce that the preparations for the encampment have thus advanced to a further stage than those of any other city which entertained the veterans with their coming so far.

The board of governors also talked over the banquet which will be tendered the G. A. R. leaders here on Nov. 15. Twelve of the highest officials in the G. A. R. from all over the country have been invited to come to Salt Lake on that date and accept the Commercial club's hospitality, and also confer over the plans for the encampment.

YOUTH WIELDS PRECOCIOUS PEN

Cyril K. Baldwin Charged With Forging His Father's Name to Check.

The alleged forging of his father's name to a check for $30 threatens to bring to an abrupt close the promising career of Cyril K. Baldwin, aged about 18 years, and the son of J. K. Baldwin, an engineer on the Denver & Rio Grande road. Young as he is, the lad is now confined in the city jail under the serious charge of forgery.

The crime charged against Baldwin is the passing of a forged check for $30, and the arrest was made upon the complaint of Gray Bros., 123 South Main street, who cashed the check.

On Oct. 12 young Baldwin appeared at the store and presented a check made payable to himself and signed by his father, J. K. Baldwin. The youth was there to have been working for Elias Morris Tile company. Two of his pay checks had been cashed by the clothing company, and when he appeared with a check, which he said, had been given him by his father, J. K. Baldwin, he was arrested.

When the check was cashed it was found that J. K. Baldwin had no account at the bank, and that the check was drawn, and that the check was a forgery.

A search was made for the young man, but he managed to evade his followers, until yesterday, when he went to the store and presented a check made payable to himself and signed by his father, J. K. Baldwin. The youth was there to have been working for Elias Morris Tile company. Two of his pay checks had been cashed by the clothing company, and when he appeared with a check, which he said, had been given him by his father, J. K. Baldwin, he was arrested.

When the check was cashed it was found that J. K. Baldwin had no account at the bank, and that the check was drawn, and that the check was a forgery.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF

From Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness, by Using Hyomel.

When you catch cold you want to get rid of it as quickly as you can. You don't want to lie around the house for a week, swallowing nauseating drugs. You know when you do this that you are not only making your own life miserable, but are a nuisance to every one about you.

Why not avoid all this; why not relieve your cold in five minutes; why not cure it over night? You can do it by using Hyomel, the sure and guaranteed cure for Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Bronchitis and Asthma.

Hyomel is medicated and antiseptic air; you breathe it into the lungs through a small pocket inhaler, and its soothing influences as it passes over the inflamed membrane of the respiratory tract, stops the mucous discharge, allays the inflammation, and the cold is cured. A complete Hyomel outfit costs $1.00, and F. C. Schramm will refund your money if it fails to cure.

Husband and Wife Cured. "I had a bad form of catarrh. My left nostril was closed entirely. There was also a constant dripping of blood from the right. I only used Hyomel a little over two weeks, and am now cured. My husband was also cured of catarrh and lung trouble two years ago by Hyomel."—Mrs. Harry Obney, Alliance, O.

CENTER PARKING FOR TWO STREETS

Fourth East and Seventh East to Have Grass Plots and Foliage as Ornaments.

ASPHALT ON EITHER SIDE

POLICE COMMITTEE ACCEPTS PATROLMAN'S RESIGNATION.

Important action was taken last night when the engineering committee of the city council decided to recommend the paving with asphalt and the central parking of Fourth East and Seventh East streets after the manner of Sixth East street. The improvement will be between Brigham and Third South streets. There will be a park in the center twenty-four feet wide, and on either side there will be a paved roadway twenty-four feet wide also.

According to the engineer's estimate the asphalt portion of the cost on Fourth East will be $7.5 a foot, or a total of $29,502. The city's portion will be $1,654.99. The cost on Seventh East will be a trifle higher, owing to the heavier ground to be worked; the estimate in detail for that street has not yet been completed.

Inasmuch as the city has already interested the cost to the municipality will be materially lessened. The curbing and guttering on Fourth East, it is believed, will be finished this fall, and this part of the work on Seventh East will be completed in the spring.

P. A. Olsen and others asked for permission to lay a cement sidewalk on Laite avenue between Ninth and Tenth East streets, and the engineering and sewer committee recommended that it be granted. The resignation of J. T. Tyler as patrolman was finally accepted by the police and prison committee, and the appointment of Harold R. Martin will be recommended for confirmation.

The improvements committee will make a general readjustment of the free telephone to which the city is entitled under the ordinance relieving the companies of license tax, and taking for the city instead of 1 per cent of their gross earnings. It appears that all the instruments which the city "has coming" have been used up, and a roundup and reappointment will be made. The list was not completed last night.

The fire committee will recommend the confirmation of E. T. Silver and Otto Smith as firemen.

TO INSTALL ASSAY SERVICE

L. S. Kerfoot Will Arrange Equipment for New Government Office in Salt Lake.

L. S. Kerfoot of the United States government assay service, arrived in the city yesterday and will start immediately to establish the government assay office in this city. Mr. Kerfoot said the office would be opened about Jan. 1, 1909. Mr. Kerfoot comes to Salt Lake from the Pacific coast cities, where he has been on business connected with the government for several months. He will remain in Salt Lake until the assay office in this city is in working order. He said:

"The establishment of an assay office in Salt Lake will mean the saving of a great amount of money annually to producers of precious metals. With an office in Salt Lake the delay and expense of shipping the bullion will be avoided. The gold and silver produced by the Utah mines can be turned into the office at Salt Lake and the proceeds will be received full value. The bullion will be treated here, and then sent to the mints in Denver, San Francisco and Philadelphia."

Bids for machinery and furnaces have already been advertised for, and the machinery to be installed in the local office will be the most up-to-date kind. The Salt Lake office will be one of the best in the service, according to Mr. Kerfoot. There will be fourteen or fifteen positions in the office, and civil service examinations will soon be held.

ANNUAL PASSES FOR MERITORIOUS SERVICE

As a reward for long and meritorious service, the Union Pacific railroad authorities have decided to issue annual passes to its employees and their wives in all cases where their service has earned such consideration.

This policy is in line with the course of many big eastern roads, which thus show their appreciation of long, efficient service. Engineers and trainmen in the U. P. employ are now engaged in filling out certified statements of the length of their service and filing the certificate with the proper officials.

Employees who have worked for the system for ten years will be entitled to an annual pass for self and wife over the district upon which they are employed; employees with fifteen years' service will be entitled to an annual pass over the division, and those of

WATER FOR PRISON.

Governor Would Like to Make Arrangement With City for Supply.

Governor John G. Cutler, chairman of the board of corrections, which body has the management of the state penitentiary, yesterday addressed a communication to the city council with a view to arranging a contract whereby the prison may secure a supply of water until the litigation which involves the flow of Parley's creek, and in which the city is involved, is finally decided. The governor says in his note that the warden of the prison at that time, George M. Dow, in July, 1897, entered into a contract to pay the city $100 a year for permission to tap the Parley's conduit. Afterward the city terminated the contract, and now the prison is threatened with a water famine, inasmuch as it has no funds available to secure a new supply, save those which were appropriated by the last legislature, and which the board does not desire to use for temporary purposes. The board and the city can easily make arrangements for the time being until there is a final adjudication. The communication will probably be brought to the attention of the council Monday night.
